OUTWITTED BY FRESHMEN

State College Yearlings Hold Their Annual Banquet at Williamsport.

SOPHOMORES WERE BADLY FOOLED

Special Trains Were Too Much For The Second-Year Men—They Followed The Freshmen But Accomplished Nothing.

Probably the most important feature during a student's Freshman year of college is his class banquet. For months and months they plan this and that and the other until the word "banquet" rings in their ears from morn till night. Of course all these plans are kept entirely to themselves because it would never do for the Sophomores to find it out. It is this secrecy that adds so much spice to the affair and makes it all the more interesting. It is the chief object of the Sophomores to spoil the Freshmen's banquet if they possibly can. Sometimes they can, and sometimes they cannot. Hereby hangs a tale.

For several weeks the "Sophs" at State College had an idea that the "Fresh" were going to hold their annual banquet at Williamsport. They also knew that they were going to hold it soon, too, and accordingly commenced to lay plans to prevent it if such a thing was possible. And why wouldn't it be possible, for were not their opponents only Freshmen? Surely they would have no trouble in teaching them a thing or two. It would be easy—dead easy, so they said—and my, how sore the yearlings would feel when they found out their "superiors" had outdone them.

The Freshmen decided to hold their banquet on Friday evening at Williamsport. * * They held it. The "Sophs" were completely fooled and had to acknowledge they were beaten at every point, and beaten badly at that.

Friday morning passed off as usual at State College and the "Sophs" made up their minds that there would be no banquet that day. But, oh, how badly they were fooled by their wily lower classmen. Arrangements, which were perfect in every particular, had been made and they were carried out to a dot. The morning train over the B. C. R. R. arrived at State College as usual about 12 o'clock. The train ordinarily lays at that place until about 3 o'clock in the afternoon when it makes a return trip to Bellefonte. The train laid there a few moments when at a given signal there was a great rush and fully forty Freshmen were safely inside the coaches. In a few seconds and before the "Sophs" had time to realize what had happened, the train was out of sight and on its way to Bellefonte. Here was surprise number one. The Freshmen had engaged a special train and thus neatly eluded the "Sophs."

It was a bitter pill to swallow, but down it went—or at least started down.

An idea struck the "Sophs" and they immediately proceeded to the livery, where a large hack was hired. In a few minutes they were on their way to Bellefonte. They reached here about 3.15 in high glee. They expected to go right down to the C. R. R of Pa. passenger station and prevent the Freshmen from taking the 3.30 train for Williamsport and thus spoil the whole banquet at one stroke.

Imagine their surprise when they learned upon their arrival here that the Freshmen had already reached Williamsport. Here was surprise number two. The Freshmen had arranged with the railroad officials to have a passenger coach hitched onto the freight train which left Bellefonte at 1.10 o'clock Friday afternoon. Consequently by the time the "Sophs" had arrived in Bellefonte the Freshmen were in Williamsport.

The "Sophs" were naturally very much dismayed and immediately held a council of war. Scouts were sent out and soon returned with three Freshmen named Brant, Reed and Bittinger, who were not fortunate enough to catch the train with the rest of their class. All efforts to make the three prisoners tell where the banquet was to be held at Williamsport were in vain, and under a heavy guard they were shipped back to College. Sixteen "Sophs" then boarded the first train for Williamsport to spoil the banquet or at least capture the class treasurer who held the funds to pay for the feast.

The "Sophs" reached Williamsport but they were compelled to buck up against hotel porters and policemen and could accomplish nothing.

They all returned this morning. Some were happy and some were not.

CAUGHT IN A CAVE.

Beaver Falls Police Run Down a Gang of Robbers.

Beaver Falls, Pa., March 1.—A day or so ago the police of this place got a pointer that a band of thieves, who had been operating in this and adjoining counties, had their headquarters here in a cave alongside of the Beaver river in the upper part of town. They also learned that the band had planned to rob a store in Ebensburg, Lawrence county, Saturday night, and also an old farmer named Jacob Young, living near here. Arrangements were made to make a descent on the headquarters as soon as the robbers returned with their booty, but to the great chagrin of the officers they learned yesterday that some one had given the gang a tip that the police were onto them, thus spoiling the whole job. Chief of Police Vandevort, however, last night visited the cave and succeeded in arresting two of the men, who gave their names as Fred Henry and William Roscamp. The men are now in the lockup. They also got a big lot of burglars' tools and miscellaneous goods supposed to be stolen. The cave extends about thirty feet into the rock, and the entrance is fitted up with masonry and cross ties, making a large and comfortable room. It is comfortably furnished, having a large cook stove, bunks, chairs, carpets, plenty of bed clothes and everything in good shape. When the police entered Roscamp was asleep and Henry was busy cooking chicken in a large pot on the stove, while in another was a lot of potatoes, cabbage, etc. A freshly tapped keg of beer stood in one corner.

Wants the Law Observed.

Beaver, Pa., March 1.—Within the past few days Judge Wilson has had the heads of the police departments of the various towns of the Beaver valley before him in private, and has told them that hereafter they must use more vigilance in hunting up and getting rid of the petty crooks, burglars, sneak-thieves, cock-fighters, prize-fighters, ect., that have for a year or more past made Beaver county their field of operations, and are fast giving the county a reputation for lawlessness second to none in the state. He said: You apprehend these people, bring them before me, and I will see that they get their deserts. The judge seems to be thoroughly in earnest in the matter, and his instructions will no doubt result in greater activity among the police and will be productive of excellent results.

One Miner Killed and Another Injured.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., March 1.—Hugh C. Williams, aged 31 years, was killed on Saturday evening by the premature explosion of a blast in the Franklin mine; John W. Jones was seriously injured and Daniel Baker was slightly bruised by flying rock.

The explosion occurred in a tunnel, where the men were blasting rock. In tamping down the powder ignited, causing the blast to go off sooner than anticipated. Williams was a single man and had lived here two years, his parents residing in Utica, N. Y.

Death of a Peculiar Character.

Greensburg, Pa., March 1—Adam Haley a peculiar character, died of dropsy at his home in Rostraver township a few days ago. Little is known of his early life as he came to Rostraver township from Pittsburg many years ago. He kept his own counsel, bnt once told a friend that he had been married twice, while his first wife was an angel his latter spouse was the opposite. He had been ill for some time, and on Wednesday he was found lying on the floor with his feet under the grate. He was unconcious and never spoke intelligently thereafter.

Will Be Investigated.

Reading, Pa., March 1.—A large number of dogs have disappeared in this city recently. Yesterday the carcasses of at least twenty were found on the outskirts, among them several valuable setters. It is said that these dogs were stolen and held for rewards and those whose owners did not respond were killed or starved to death. It is probable that several arrests may be made.

With the X Rays.

Sixteen years ago George T. Jacobs, of Hollidaysburg, was the victim of an accident, in which a pistol ball was lodged in his left side. The ball was never removed from his body. This week Mr. Jacobs expects to submit to an examination in a Pittsburg hospital, and the aid of Roentgen's wonderful X rays will be invoked to discover the exact lodging place of the ball.

Making Improvements.

Wetzell Brothers, the machinists are continually making improvements of some kind. Their last work in this direction is an addition to their shops. This shows an increase of business.

ALMOST BEATEN TO DEATH

Foster Young of Coleville Was Working With Hungarians When They

ASSAULTED HIM WITH PICKS

His Cries For Help Brought Assistance and His Assailants Were Driven Off—Is Seriously Injured.

We often heardof tales of horror but it is seldom that anything of the kind happens near Bellefonte. On Tuesday, however there was an occurrence that is ghastly enough in description to make one's blood run cold.

It seems that there are a number of hungarians working at Morri's Stone Quarries up Buffalo Run together with the Americans. On Tuesday, three hungarians and one american, named Foster Young who lives at Coleville near this city, were loading stone on a cart. A stone fell from the cart onto the feet of one of the hungarian. Thinking that Young was dropping the stones purposely the hungarians became angry and attacked him with picks and shovels and when they were driven off, Young was almost dead. It was found that the hungarians had cut horrible gashes into his legs and body with their picks besides being terribly bruised. The cries of the wounded man brought help and his angry assailants were driven away. A telephone message to Bellefonte instructed the police to arrest the hungarians, but in some way or other the message was not delivered until late that day. Two of the men escaped on the train on Tuesday evening. They bought tickets for Tyrone. The third one is still in this vicinity and warrants are out for the arrest off all of them. Young was taken to his home and on Wednesday evening was in pretty bad shape. It is feared blood poison will set in which would make his case a very dangerous one. It is hoped however that he will soon recover.

Wonderful Oil Fields.

The Pittsburg Times on Monday devoted considerable space to the oil interests of the world. Their staff correspondent, Bion H. Butler, made a trip of 14,000 miles to find out just what the actual condition of oil business was. This trip was with only a six hours notice. Mr. Butler is a writer of brilliance and force combined and his account of the Russian oil fields is indeed an interesting one. An idea of the product of one well can be obtained from the following, clipped from Mr. Butler's article in the Times;

"The man who has not seen a Russian oil wellfl ow cannot have a conception of what 120,000 barrels a day means. It was my fortune to see the Zoubaloff well at Biba-Eibat doing its 60,000 barrels a day, and the sight was a revelation to me. While I stood beside the stream that flowed from the derick Tartar guards stood beside me, and would not allow me to go too close, lest the treacherous sand might slip and fall into the stream and drown. The flow of oil from the Zoubaloff well the day I went down to see it was flowing at the rate of nearly a barrel a second. Put your finger on your pulse, and imagine yourself standing by a ditch through which a stream of oil flows. When you conceive of almost a barrel of it passing your feet at each pulsation you have the flow of the big well at Biba-Eibat. The ditch when I saw it was about four feet wide, the stream about a foot and a half deep, while the current seemed as rapid as a mill race. Except the big springs like those at Bellefonte, I have never seen so much fluid come from a single opening in the earth, and it was a question if the oil well did not discharge the larger quantity."

A Rise in Nails.

The hardware merchant who laid in a stock or nails ab out one year ago was a wise man, and if he has a large quantity he has found business quite profitable. Then a keg of nails was purchased for 90 cents, now the same nails are sold for $2.50 a keg. To-day another rise in the price of nails of all kinds goes into effect, which will average 15 cents on every keg. The increase has been due to the demand.

An Old Land Mark Gone.

A sudden death was that at Hannah Furnace on Monday of William Calderwood aged 76 years. The deceased was one of the best known men in Central Pennsylvania. For years he had been a staunch democrat and remained so up to the time of his death. His funeral was held to-day from his late home in Hannah.

Accident on the Pennsylvania R. R.

Irwin, Pa., March 1.—A terrible accident occurred here last night, which resulted in the death of three young people and cast sadness over as many different homes. Miss Pauline Clarke and Miss Mary Green, both of Westmorland City, accompanied by Richard Garland, of Shafton, all came to town early in the evening to attend an entertainment here. After the close of the exercises they started for their homes, walking up the railroad tracks. They had just left the limits of the town, about a mile from here, when they were run down by an out-going freight, which, it is presumed, they did not hear, as the night was dark and stormy. They had been, apparently, all walking abreast on the track, and were squarely struck by the engine. They were all instantly killed, the bodies being thrown quite a distance and all horribly mangled. The accident occurred about 11 o'clock and the bodies were brought to town shortly after by trainman. They were taken to the undertaker's and prepared for burial and the funerals of all three will be held here on Tuesday afternoon. The young people were well and favorably known here and the accident has cast a great gloom over this town.

Miss pauline Clarke was aged 18 years, Miss Mary Greeves 19 years and Richard Garland was 20 years old. They all belonged to very prominent families. As they neared Shafton two trains going the opposite directions occupied the first and third tracks; at the same time a locomotive running at great speed was backing west, and struck the young people without warning. The scene of the terrible accident was visited by hundreds of people to-day. It is said that there was no light on the rear of the locomotive that run them down on the Pennsylvania road.

NEW COUNCIL ORGANIZED

Final Business of The Old Council Transacted In a Rush.

BROCKERHOFF ELECTED PRESIDENT

His Election Was Unanimous as Also Was That of Clerk Isaac Mitchell—Ready For The New Year.

The adjourned and last meeting of the old Council was heldlat 10 o'clock Monday morning at the council chambers. The object of the meeting was to finish up the business of the old Council, say good-bye to the retiring members, and then organize a new Council.

Among the old business transacted were the following bills, for which orders were drawn for the payment of the same:

Street pay roll	$ 22 47
Water pay roll	62 30
Bellefonte Fuel and Supply Co	145 06
J W Gephart, agent	42 93
Atlantic Refining Co	9 20
W B Rankin, insurance	20 00
E Electric Illuminating Co	1 50
Street pay roll	19 60
E Electric Illuminating Co	278 25
Police pay roll	35 00
Bellefonte Fuel and Supply Co	4 00
E Electric Illuminating Co	4 70
Logan Steam Fire Co	18 0
Clement Dale	25 00
Isaac Mitchell, clerk	12 50
Sinking Fund	2,000 00

The old Council being a thing of the past the new members, Lowery, Shaffer, Valentine and Gerberich, were sworn in and the new Council organized. Upon motion of Mr. Gerberich, Henry Brockerhoff, who, by the way, is the only Democrat in the Council, was nominated for President. He was unanimously elected. Clerk Isaac Mitchell was unanimously re-elected. This makes twenty-one years in which Mr. Mitchell has served as clerk and his efficiency is best illustrated by his continuous re-election to his office. Mr. Brockerhoff in a few words thanked the members for the new honor and promised faithful duty to the borough.

The Borough Treasurer handed in his statement, which showed that the duplicate accounts would more than cover the borough debt and also that the expense of the borough was about $6,000 less this year than last.

Borough Treasurer, Chas. F. Cook, and Overseer of the Poor, Isaac [illegible] were then sworn in by Notary Harsberger.

President Brockerhoff will name his committees to-night at the regular meeting.

The selection for President is certainly a very satisfactory one. As Mr. Brockerhoff is the only Democrat in the Council, his election as the presiding officer shows that the members have implicit confidence in him. That he will prove an honor to the office is our prediction and we therefore extend him our hearty congratulations.

NEW COUNCIL IN SESSION.

The first session of the new Council convened precisely at 7.30 Monday evening with every member present. They were: President, Henry Brockerhoff; members, Williams, Brackbill, Kellar, Valentine, Gerberich, Lowery and Shaffer.

The new president was escorted to his chair by a retinue of officers. There a crown of beautiful roses was placed on his head. Hardly had the new presiding officer been seated until he rapped for order and told the members that they must remember that from now on he was the boss and that he didn't propose to be sat upon by anybody. He said this with a dignity, too, that couldn't help but be understood to mean business. President Brockerhoff then called his class around him and announced the different committees he had appointed. They are as follows:

STREET COMMITTEE—S. H. Williams, chairman; H. C. Valentine, Henry Lowery.

WATER COMMITTEE—C. T. Gerberich, chairman; W. R. Brackbill, W. T. Hillibish.

FINANCE COMMITTEE—Harry Keller, chairman; H. C. Valentine, C. T. Gerberich.

FIRE AND POLICE COMMITTEE—W. R. Brackbill, chairman; W. T. Hillibish, C. T. Gerberich.

MARKET COMMITTEE—B. F. Shaffer, chairman; S. H. Williams, Harry Keller.

NUISANCE COMMITTEE—Henry Lowery, chairman; B. F. Shaffer, W. T. Hillibish.

VILLAGE IMPROVEMENT COMMITTEE—H. C. Valentine, chairman; S. H. Williams, W. R. Brackbill.

The committeemen then got together and looked wise. They each one seemed to realize that they were about to enter upon a serious duty, and to serve their constituents to the best of their ability was undoubtedly each one's unspoken resolve. Elections were then in order and the different committees commenced to present their nominees.

The first nomination was that for Street Commissioner. Thomas Slaughenny and Jos. Johnston were nominated. A vote was taken which resulted: Shaughenny 7, Johnston 1. Shaughenny's election was then, upon the motion of Mr. Lowery, made unanimous.

The election of a Water Superintendent was next taken up. Samuel Ryan was unanimously re-elected.

The Policemen came next and the present officers, Capt. H. H. Montgomery and William Gares were chosen.

Nominations were then in order for Borough Solicitor. The names of Clement Dale and E. R. Chambers were presented. A vote taken resulted in Dale receiving 6 votes and Chambers 2. The election of the former was then made unanimous.

A Borough Engineer was the next presented to be selected and J. Henry Wetzel was the lucky person.

This ended the election part of the program and then the bonds of the Overseer of the Poor, Isaac Miller, and High Constable, James L. McCafferty, were presented for approval. They were unanimously accepted.

William Fredericks handed in a written proposition to quarry stone for repairing streets at 30 cents per cubic yard. The proposition was laid over for consideration.

This ended the business of the first session of the new Council, and upon motion, adjournment was in order.

During the meeting Clerk Isaac Mitchell, presented a statement of Council expenses for the last year ending March 2, 1896. It shows that the expenses for the past year were just $5,958.77 less than for the previous year.

The statement in condensed form is as follows:

A Birthday Surprise.

On Saturday Mrs. Emanuel Musser who lives near State College, was tendered a birthday celebration which besides being a complete surprise to her was an occasion long to be remembered owing to its being such an enjoyable one. As stated above it was Mrs. Musser's birthday and her family accordingly laid plans to celebrate it in a fitting manner. Mr. Musser had it so arranged that he and his wife should go and see a sick friend that day. Mrs. Musser didn't want to go as the weather looked so unfavorable. Considerable persuasion wasbrought to bear and she finall consented to go. The trip was made and about four o'clock in the afternoon they returned. Mrs. Musser got out of the buggy at the gate and walked up to the house with her son. From outside appesrances the house looked as usual but when the door opened a surprise was in store for her. A house full of guests greeted her gaet and it was not until the minister stepped forward and congratulated her and wished her many more happy birthdays that she even commenced to understand what it all meant. Her sons who are working away from home were there to help celebrate it and everybody had a good time but none enjoyed it more than the completly surprised and rather compelled to be hostess.

—The History Building at the Tennessee Centennial will probably be the centre of sentiment at the Exposition. The architect's design for the edifice has not been accepted, but will probably be in the form of a Greek cross with a dome, so that one wing can be used for colonial matters. Confederate relics, and one for Federal relics of the late war. The building will be made fireproof in order that the magnificent collection of valuable articles in the possesion of the Tennessee Historical Society may be included in the display.

Speak Easies Plenty.

Williamsport, Pa,, February 28,—A largely attended meeting of the executive committee of Pennsylvania State Liquor League was held here this afternoon. Hon. Richard Patterson, of Philadelphia, presided. Nearly all the officers of the league and members of the committee were present. President Patterson reported that there are 15,000 speek-easies in the state, 5,000 of them in Philadelphia and 500 in the Luzerne district. He said also that there are 1,200 clubs in Philadelphia, two-thirds of which sell liquor illegally. The object of the meeting was to further the movement for amendments to the Brooks law that will protect the legitimate dealers and enable a thorough enforcement of the law.

Note of Warning.

Indigestion produces inflamation and ulceration of the stomach, and these are the exciting cause of so many deaths from cancer of the stomach. South American Nervine is the most momentous cure for stomach troubles the world ever saw. There is no case of indigestion and stomach weakness which it will not cure. A sound stomach is never affected by cancerous growths. Seve yourself by using this renowned cure which never disappoints. Sold by F. P. Green druggist, Bellefonte, Pa. [29-1y.

Thieves use a Wagon.

New Castle, Pa., Feb. 28.—Thieves broke the large plate glass windows of M. W. Cunningham's drug store, at Harlansburg, last night and completely looted the place. Tracks near the sidewalk show that the plunder was hauled away in a wagon. The night previous, Porter Terrill's general store, at Pulaski, was robbed in a similar manner.

Nothing Succeeds Like Success.

The success of the Speer, N. J., Wine Co., in producing an extra quality of Grape Brandy is marvelous. They rely alone on the grape for body and flavor, and hence there is a wide and growing demand for this Brandy which rivals the old brands of Cognac, France. Nothing is finer or richer than Speer's Old Climax Brandy and his Old Port; five to fifteen years old. For table use their Clarets, Santernes, Burgundies and P. J. Sherry are unsurpassed. For the sick room, hospital and Sacramental purposes their unfermented grape juice is recommended and used by both physicians and divines. Sold by druggists.

Mother—You've been into that jam again.

No'm, I haven't. I'll declare I haven't.

And he chuckled at the thought that his mother had not accused him of puting the jam into him.

Proposed Telephone Company.

The Williamsport Sun says: For the past two days a solicitor has been visiting business firms throughout the city and has secured about fifty subscribers, who promise to use the telephones of the new company. The name of the proposed company will be the West Branch telephone compauy. The line of this company will extend from Lock Haven to Sunbury, where it will connect with the Shamokin Valley telephone line, now being constructed from Sunbury to Mt. Carmel. From Mt. Carmel the line will be completed to Philadelphia and New York ere the summer has ended.

There are companies now operating in Altoona, Johnstown, Indiana and Greensburg, and it is only a question of time when these lines will be connected and a western outlet to Pittsburg obtained. The Altoona company has already extended their line to Tyrone and a branch line will soon be built to Bellefonte.

The Western Telephone Construction company, of Chicago, holds the patents on the Telephone to be introduced, which is used by some seventy-five companies in different parts of the county. The local promoters guarantee to subscribers that the annual rental of the new telephone will be half the rates charged by the present telephone company. The service will be first class, the line well built, and all the telephones used will be long distance instruments, through which one may speak as readily to New York as to one's neighbor.

The Stranger Took Him in.

Mercer, Pa., Feb. 27. W. H. Stanner marble cutter, was returning from Sharon Wednesday, and on the road met a weary stranger, who asked for a ride. In return he told Stanner he was selling catarrh medicine and offered him a bottle. Stanner, following the directions, took a long sniff of the contents, and remembered nothing more till he found himself at home, with his pockets turned inside ont and his pocketbook gone.

First Stranger (Surprised)—Why are you a literary man?

Second stranger (Sadly)—No I used to think I was, though. I am the author of the book that was the rage of the season a dozen years ago.

Castoria is tauly a marvelous thing for children. Doctors prescribe it, medical journals recommend it and more than a million mothers are using it in place of Paregoric, Batemen's Drops, so-called soothing syrups and other narcotic and stupefying remedies. Castoria is the quickest thing to regulate the stomach and bowels and give healthy sleep the world has ever seen. It is pleasant to the taste and absolutely harmless. It relieves constipation, quiets pain, cures diarrhoe, wind colic, allays feverishness, destorys worms, and preyents convulsions, sooths the child and gives it refreshing sleep. Death of Frank Bauer.

On Friday J. N. Bauer, the grocer, received a telegram stating that his brother Frank Bauer had died at Port Townsend, Washington. The deceased was aged about 60 years, and was well known in Bellefonte. He made a trip to this city about seven years ago, but had not been here since. He was unmarried. The funeral will take place from his late home at Washington. For many years he held a position as an inspector under the U. S. government.

A Surprise Dinner.

A surprise dinner was given to comrade George Cox last Saturday by George Marshall, Isaac Dawson, Henry Rothrock, William Reese, and W. L. Twitmeyer. The dinner was carried from the Greeg Post rooms by John Bryan over to the Eureka grocery store. It fairly took his breath but he heartily enjoyed it all the same. It was a complete surprise to Mr. Cox and a very pleasant one too.

Gittin' back home from a long time a-wanderin';
Gittin' back home where I ust to be a boy.
Gittin' back home an' my heart's jes' a-squanderin'
All its wealth o' feelin' in a big feast o' joy.

Want to see the boys ag'in 'at ust to go a-skurryin'
All the while an' everywhere as boys is sure to do;
Recollect 'ith sorrow how we 'kep our folks a-worryin'
And how our parents, lets o' times, 'u'd keep us worried, too,

Want to see the boys who, down aroun' the swimmin' place,
When I'd sneak out to dress myself, 'u'd spatter me 'ith mud;
Never git so old but I'll call to mind the grinnin' face
O' everyone 'at soaked me 'ith a mortifyin' thud.

Want to meet the ones who jes' fer the fun o' it
When cockle-burrs an' beggar's-lice was ripenin' about,
'U'd mix a feller's hair so full o' 'em 'at hardly none of it
Was left remainin' by the time his mother combed 'em out.

Want to fin' the trees 'at we got the slippery ellum from;
Want to see the marsh where the sweet flag growed;
Want to git the boys all together like an' tell 'em some Things 'at ust to happen they've forgot I knowed.

Want to see the school house an' all 'at's surroundin' it;
Want to see the church an' the graveyard too.
Sometime I 'spose there 'll be another mound in it,
Where old-fashioned roses 'ill be kissed 'ith the dew.

But 'taint my way fer to go about a-worryin';
Things is as they orter be, or purty near, I 'low,
An' so I'm done 'ith the frettin' an' the worryin';
Goin' to fin' a paradise an' goin' to fin' it now.

She Studies Advertisements.

"I study advertisements, and I know where and when and how to purchase the household supplies. My husband used to laugh at me for reading advertisements so carefully, but he has long learned that I save many dollars every month. I know of no better way to practice economy, and do you know that it is a wonder how soon you learn to detect the real from the false, intuitively, almost? You hear a great deal nowadays about the 'practical pages' of magazines and newspapers, but for me the practical pages are those containing the business announcements of repatable business houses. The housekeeper who takes advantage of the practical hints in those pages shows a great deal more common sense than does the one who tries to furnish a seven-room cottage with a lot of soap boxes covered with denim worked in fancy stitch, and to feed her growing family with never ending reminiscences of the meal that went before. To the economical housekeeper, advertisements are the most important part of any publication."—Womankind.

"Mr. J. A. Blackman, 123 E. 88th St., N. Y., writes: "Sailing from here last August for Europe, tried every antidote for sea-sickness, and I found yours the only successful one. On my return also used it when I suffered no ill effects at all."

Fitzsimmons the Victor.

Langtry, Texas, February 21.—It took Bob Fitzsimmons just ninety seconds this afternoon to defeat Peter Maher and become the heavyweight champion of the world. The fight took place in the bottoms of the Rio Grande river on the Mexican side, a mile and a half distant from Langtry depot. Even to his friends it was evident that the Irish lad was not in it from the start. Before the round had progressed thirty seconds Maher attempted a foul and was heatedly warned by the referee. Fitzsimmons's coup was in the form of one of his famous upper hooks, with which he knocked Hall out and broke the nose of his trainer. Maher made a gallant effort to get on his feet when time was called, but after getting half way to a recumbent position he fell back and still had the decision was awarded to the Cornish man.

From the moment they had entered the ropes it was patent to everybody that, while the Cornish man was togged for the fray and full of confidence, his opponent was nervous and ill at ease.

At 4.25, when Referee Siler called both men to the centre of the ring to give hem their instructions and warn against fouling or other infractions of the code, the spectators enjoyed the first opportunity of seeing them face to face. Fitzsimmons presented a better appearance than at any or his previous encounters. His flesh was hard and pink and the veins stood out like whip cords. Maher, on the contrary, appeared some what flabby while his movements on his feet lacked the agility that characterized those of Fitzsimmons. Manager Quinn had evidently been honest in the opinion that he gave the United Press a couple of days ago: "Pete is not in the condition that I would like him to be." Time was called at 4·25 and the spectators pressed to the ropes.

Her Husband a Burglar.

Shamokin, Pa., Feb. 26.—A bride of week and now an applicant for a divorce from her young husband, who is in jail, a self confessed burglar, is the sad plight of Mrs. Edward W. Hayes, formerley Miss Annie Ziegler, a charming young woman of Trevorton. The wedding was celebrated at this place just a week ago and was one of the social features. Last night Hayes was placed in jail under three indictments for burglary and his fair young bride is heart broken.

For many months scores of daring robberies had been committed at Milton and the police were unable to discover a single clue. The extensive coal yard of E. W. Johnson was robbed last Saturday of a large quantity of fuel. Detectives were at once put upon the case and they traced lumps of coal, which dropped through a hole in a bag, a number o squares to a suit of rooms over the police department headquarters. The building is in the most prominent portion of the town and the rooms were occupied by Edward Hayes and Clarence Ludwig, well known young men of considerable popularity.

The police were astonished, but they made a thorough search and found dry goods, merchandise and furnishing goods in quantity. Merchants from whom goods had been stolen identified them, after which warrents were issued for the arrest of the young men, who were out at the time. They were apprehended later on and when informed of the criminating evidence Hayes evinced lots of emotion while Ludwig treated the matter with in difference.

When taken before a justice they confessed their crime, but declared that they were the only ones guilty. The police, however, do not believe this, but are hard at work running down what they believe to be a thoroughly organized gang of robbers, who have committed many crimes throughout this region.

Hayes and Ludwig were imprisoned in the county jail. When Hayes' wife learned that he was a professional burglar she was completely prostrated. She had been wooed by the dashing young Hayes during the past year. He was always well dressed and was considered a model young man. The betrayed bride concluded to commence suit for divorce, and the application was filed in court.

Both Boys Were Drowned.

Allentown, Feb. 26.—The theory that Kline, Frederick and Asher Barnes, the Catasauqua lads who disapeared on Monday night, were drowned in the Lehigh canal, proves to be true. Last night the searchers found the body of young Barnes near the Crane Iron works, at Catasauqua about a half mile from where the boys are supposed to have fallen into the canal. The body was under water, and it was discovered by means of an electric search light.

CATARRH

COLD IN HEAD

Belligerency Recognized.

Washington, February 28.—By a vote of sixty-four to six, the senate of the United States put on record to-day its views and policy in relation to the existing revolution in Cuba. Up to the hour of 4 o'clock the debate went on—senators vieing with each other in praise of the Cuban patriots and in denunciation of Captain General Weyler and Senator Sherman characterizing him rather as a demon than as a general. The cruelties of Pizarro and Cortes in Mexico and Peru and of the Duke of Alba in the Netherlands were overlooked and there ran through the debate a hardly concealed contempt for the power of Spain.

The debate closed at 4 p. m. and then the voting began. Various amendments were voted down or laid on the table by large majorities; and finally the vote came on the resolution of the committee on foreign relations amended by the addition to it of Senator Cameron's resolution for the recognition of Cuban independence. The terms of the concurrent resolution are that in the opinion of congress a condition of war exists between the government of Spain and the government proclaimed and maintained by force of arms by the people of Cuba; that the United States should maintain a strict neutrality between the contending powers, according to each of them all the rights of belligerents in the ports and territories of the United States; and that the friendly officers of the United States should be offered by the president to the Spanish government for the recognition of the independence of Cuba.

The vote in detail by which the resolution passed the senate is as follows:

Yeas—Messrs. Allen, Allison, Bacon, Bacon, Ball, Cameron, Cannon, Carter, Chandler, Clark, Cockrell, Cullom, Daniel, Davis, DuBois, Elkins, Faulker, Frye, Gallinger, Gear, Gidson, Gorman, Gray, Hawley, Hill, Irby, Jones, of Arkansas; Jones, of Nevada; Kyle, Lindsay, Lodge, McBride, McMillan, Mantle, Martin, Mills, Mitchell, of Oregon; Morgan, Nelson, Pasco, Peffer, Perkins, Pritchard, Proctor, Quay, Roach, Sherman, Smith, Squire Stewart, Shoup, Teller, Thurston, Turple, Vest, Walthall, Warren, White, Wilson—64.

Nays—Messrs, Caffery, Chilton, George, Hale, Morrill, Wetmore—6.

Beware of Counterfeiters.

Who infest the market and are the means of robbing sick people of their money and what is of still greater consequence of not unfrequently aggravating the complaints under which they labor. It is an act of duty we owe to society to warn the people against these dangerous frauds. A little care on the part of the purchaser will protect them from imposition by bearing in mind these facts: Never buy where it is offered in bulk, (in kegs or jugs) as the genuine Hostetter's Stomach Bitters are sold only in bottles having the handsome steel plate label displaying the combat between St, George and the Dragon, and having at the bottom a miniature note of hand for one cent, bearing a facsimile of the signature of the president of the company. Over the cork is a metallic cap, on which is impressed the name of the article together with a medallion head in the centre. Any person selling the counterfeit Hostetter's Stomach Bitters we shall not hesitate to bring to justice, as we never fail to convict.

—The new Catholic church at St. Boniface, Cambria County, was destroyed by fire on the night of February 25, Loss $3,000; insured.

—A presumably mad dog caused much excitement in Lycoming county towns. He bit twelve persons in McEwensville and two children in Watsontown before he was killed.

—On the night of February 20 the warehouse and station of the Pennsylvania railroad at Marysville, Perry county, was entered by theives who got away with some cloth and groceries.

—A couple of Sundays ago the 7-year old son of James Baxter, of Carroll township, Perry County, was wrestling with a companion when he was thrown across a sharp stone, sustaining a fracture of his right thigh bone.

Aunt Rache's Bitters.

The underriable fact that these Bitters are composed in the main of Speer's Wine, with Peruvian Bark, Snake Root, etc., analyzed and recommended to invalids and the medical profession, by the best chemists in the United States, cannot fail in inspiring confidence in the use of these Malarial Bitters.

—There are a number of people in Bellefonte who are Christians only when it is their advantage to be so. Especially is this true in the winter. It is different in the summer for then they don't need any coal.

SAPS THE LIFE.

Stealthily But Steadily and the System Cannot Stand it Long.

There is no saying more true of any disease than of kidney disease' that "you don't know you have it, 'till it has you." It begins in such a way that you don't care about it. "It is only a slight backache" and "will go away". But it don't It stays right there, and you soon learn it is a peculiar ache and seems to be very deep-seated. Well it is. It is in the kidneys and it will stay there unless cured, and nag the life out in its sapping and painful way. We simply say to you stop it now' and permanently. When the back aches is the time to do it, easiest and best. A little fire is put out easier than a big one. First symptoms are more easily eradicated than chronic conditions. Doan's Kidney Pills never fail in kidney complaints, in any stage, but we wish we might so impress the fact that back ache is kidney ache, that all may know the fact while it only takes a few doses to cure. We are a nation of newspaper readers, and rapidly learn the matters of every day interest. It is so in Pottsville, and the conditions are bettered whenever Doan's Kidney Pills are known. Mr. A J Weber, of 124 Academy Street, Wilkes-Barre, gives his opinion of Doan's Kidney Pills. To use Mr. Weber's own words he said "I have been troubled very badly for about a year. At times I had a sharp pain in the small of my back directly over and in the kidneys. They also extended up the back and caused severe headaches, a catch in the back as it were, was often prevalent when stooping over or bending or lifting, or when I caught a cold' and colds always made me worse, affecting urination. I began taking Doan's Kidney Pills, and felt improved after three or four doses, and they helped right along until I got entirely over it. I shall always recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to others. I am satisfied they are a good remedy, and shall take them again if occasion requires it." For sale by all dealers—price 50c. Mailed by Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N Y sole agents for the U S.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From Our Regular Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, MARCH 2, 1896.

Who's afraid? Somebody is, and it seems that his name is Grover Cleveland. He is afraid that Congress is about to compel him to aid the Cubans. He succeeded in getting the resolution declaring the Cubans entitled to immediate recognition as belligerents and asking that the President use his good offices to pursuade Spain to recognize the independence of Cuba, which was adopted by the Senate with only six dissenting votes, made concurrent instead of joint, which makes it just about as valuable to the Cubans as the concurrent resolution adopted by both branches of Congress some weeks ago and which is now hid away in a pigeon-hole in some White House desk has been to the Armenians whom it was intended to help. He wanted the resolution made concurrent because it would then leave him free to act just as he pleased and just as though such a resolution had never been heard of. He was afraid that the resolution would be made joint, as many senators wished it to be, as in that case he would have been compelled to show his hand, either by vetoing it or allowing it to become a law, with or without his signature.

Although he succeeded in getting his way in the senate, Mr. Cleveland is very much afraid that he will not in the house, and there is good ground for his fear. Unless there is an unexpected change in the existing sentiment of the House there is little doubt that the Cuban resolution which will be adopted by the House this week will be made joint, and it is probable that it will also be made stronger than the Senate resolution. Then if the Senate will adopt the House resolution without amendment Mr. Cleveland will have to come out of the woods and let the country see just where he stands upon this question, within ten days after his final adoption. If he vetoes it it will be adopted over his veto, and he will be compelled to carry out its instructions.

It is a rather extraordinary state of affairs when men in Congress who are disposed to be his friends have to acknowledge that try as they will they have been unable to ascertain where the President of the United States stands upon such an important question—so important that the most conservative men in the Senate have publicly stated that it may lead the United States into war with one of European countries. And what makes the situation even more extraordinary is the repeated cablegrams from Spain saying that the Spanish minister in Washington has assured his government in the most positive terms that he has personal knowledge that Mr. Cleveland has no immediate intention of recognizing the belligerency of the Cubans. It might be supposed that these cablegrams alone would have been sufficient to have caused Mr. Cleveland to have at least taken his friends into his confidence, but no; he takes nobody into his confidence. Consequently there exists a belief that he is afraid to define his position. This is an unfortunate conclusion to arrive at, but what else can people think.

Mr. Cleveland gave Congress quite a surprise by vetoing the bill providing for the leasing of school lands in Arizona by the territorial authorities, which was passed unanimously by both House and Senate, and the House returned the favor by promptly passing the bill over his veto by a vote of 200 to 38, and there is little doubt that the Senate will also pass it with the required two-thirds vote. What made the veto all the more surprising was that a similar bill was passed by the last Congress for Oklahoma and has worked profitably for that territory.

The rumors alleging that certain republicans were working to have a special meeting of the republican National Committee called for the purpose of deposing Chairman Carter, have received no serious attention in Washington, for the very good reason that everybody knew them to be entirely without foundation. Senator Carter will retire from chairmanship of the National Committee when the St. Louis convention names the new National Committee, and his successor will be chosen as usual by the man nominated for President by that convention. Even if Chairman Carter were trying to injure the republican party, although nobody in Washington would credit him with being engaged in such business, he could do the party so little injury during the few months he has to remain at the head of the National Committee that it would really be a waste of time to call a special meeting of the committee to depose him.

The Senate committee on elections will probably report favorably Senator Allen's resolution providing for an investigation of the election of Senator Morgan, of Alabama, and as the populists have been specially clamorous for this investigation its adoption by the Senate would seem to be a certainty, but recent votes in that body have made people very cautious about saying that anything not already accomplished in the Senate is a certainty.

—Thousands are suffering excruciating misery from that plague of the night, Itching Piles, and say nothing about it through a sense of delicacy. All such will find an instant relief in the use of Doan's Ointment. It never fails.

DUN & CO.'S REPORT.

What the New York Firm Thinks of the Status of Trade.

New York, March 1.—R. G. Dun & Co. say in their weekly review of trade:

Failures for the week have been 278 in the United States against 250 last year and 58 in Canada against 38 last year.

In some quarters business gains, at the west rather than at the east, but there is no general change for the better, although hopefullness still predominates. Foreign affairs grow more resolutely toward sound money, but the absence of sufficient demand for the product of great industries still retards actual improvement. Strikes of some importance in garments making and kindred lines effect trade in Chicago and Baltimore, but there are fewer labor difficulties than usual, as existing conditions warn wage earners that controversies at this time are unwise. Speculative markets show little life.

The volume of business does not improve. Exchanges through the principal banking houses show 19.7 per cent gain over last year, but the month's comparison with 1893 is the only instructive one and shows a decrease of 20.7 for February Railroad earnings for the third week of February exceed last yesr's 5.7 per cent. and for February thus far have been 11 per cent greater than last year. Stock speculation has been irregular, and Cuban war talk on Friday caused a break in railroad stocks. The feature in iron has been the large demand for wrought and and cast pipe. Iron quotations average two per cent lower for the week. The demand for boots and shoes gains very little.

People who are eating immense quantities of peanuts for consumption would do well to save the shells. They would make a good lining for their coffins someday, and then when the final call would come, they wouldn't have so much trouble sheeling out.

Newty's First (?) Mistake.

The Magnet makes this startling statement: "The first error ever made in the columns of the Magnet, in its entire career, was that of last week when it gave publicity to a statement concerning the serious illness of Dr. H. K. Hoy, of Altoona."

Well, Newty says it nicely, doesn't he? If he were the editor of any other paper beside the Magnet we would be almost tempted to call him a liar. But with true respect for his effeminate modesty we wouldn't even think of doing such a thing. It reminds us, however, of a story we once heard of a man who carefully locked up his past record and then bragged about his greatness. As to this being Newty's first mistake we cannot say, [illegible] has been so poorly printed lately that we have been unable to read it. Nevertheless we believe every word Newty says for he is a truthful person and would make an excellent "Father of our country"—a sort of a second Georgie Washington, if he were a more correct specimen of mankind. Were one to believe his own statements they would be led to think that the Lord made a mistake by not substituting Newty Bailey for Adam and then the starting of this wicked world would have been delayed a little longer. But perhaps it is better as it was. Had Newty been there with Eve, there would have been trouble, for there is no use talking, "women can't get along together."

—Alonzo Rager, aged 17, of Sheridan Station, was jolted from the top of a box car Saturday evening and was instantly killed.

—W. W. Blair, of Derry, a Pennsylvania Railroad brakeman, was jolted from his train while passing Packsaddle Friday afternoon last, and, falling under the wheels, was so badly hurt that he died a few hours afterwards. He leaves a wife and seven children.

—Mrs. John Long, of High Park, Jeannette, Friday evening locked her three small children in the house and went to call on a neighbor. In some way the house caught fire and when Mrs. Long heard the cry of fire she hastened home, dashed through the blazing door and taking Margaret, aged 6 years, by the hand and the babe in her arms, she hastened to the street which she reached, but not until she and the children were terribly burned, Margaret being, it is thought, fatally. Mrs. Long and the babe while badly burned, it is believed will recover. The third child, a little boy, succeeded in escaping without injury.

TAKING CHANCES.

WOMEN ARE CARELESS.

They Over-Estimate Their Physical Strength. Advice to Young Women.

[SPECIAL TO OUR LADY READERS.]

Women are very apt to over-estimate their strength and overtax it.

When they are feeling particularly well, they sometimes take chances which in the long run cause them much pain and trouble. This is due largely to their not fully realizing how delicate their sensitive organism is.

The girl who has just become a woman can hardly be expected to act wisely, everything is so new to her. She, however, should be told; and every woman should realize that to be well her "monthly periods" should be regular. Wet feet, or a cold from exposure, may suppress or render irregular and fearfully painful the menses, and perhaps sow the seed for future ill health.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will ever be the unfailing remedy in such cases as well as all the peculiar ailments of women. Millions of women live to prove this. Mrs. M. L. Verrill tells plainly what it has done for her:—

"I will write you a few lines to tell you what my troubles were before taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It was the same old story,—my back and lower part of my abdomen and painful menstruation. Of course it was female weakness. The doctors (I have tried five different ones) called it chronic inflammation of the womb.

"I had leucorrhœa for over eight years, ulcers on the neck of the womb, terrible headaches and backaches. Your medicine completely cured me." — MRS. M. L. VERRILL, 223 Newell Ave., Pawtucket, R.I.

—There is no such thing as complete satisfaction in this [illegible]. If a man has no money he is miserable, and if he has lots of it is next to impossible to invest it renumeratively. There is no business which is sure to pay, not even the business of stealing; but that because there are so many persons in it, and there would be many more in it if the penitentiary did not prevent it from being open to everybody, and so be utterly ruined. — Boston Transcript.

Sunbury Consolidated.

Harrisburg, March 3.—Letters patent were issued to-day by the state department allowing the boroughs of Sunbury and East Sunbury to be consolidated in one borough under the name of Sunbury.

—Divided skirts have often caused divided acquaintances. Strange, too, isn't it?

—It is very apparent that bloomers were never thought of when the old motto was written, "United we stand; Divided we fall."

The following are the prices charged for announcements in this column: Congress $10.00 Assembly $8.00; Sheriff $8.00; Treasurer $8.00, Register $6.00; Recorder $5.00; Commissioner $5.00. All candidates are required to pledge themselves to abide the decision of the Republican county convention.

SHERIFF.

The undersigned hereby announces himself a candidate for the nomination for Sheriff of Centre County, subject to the decision and rules of the Republican County Convention. WILLIAM SHAWLEY, Milesburg, Pa.

TREASURER.

We are authorized to announce as a candidate for Treasurer the name of HARRISON KLINE of Spring township, subject to the decision of the Republican County Convention.

Sale Bills.

Farmers who intend holding public sales will do well to call at the REPUBLICAN office and find our prices. It is remarkable how reasonable the prices are. They will open your eyes in astonishment. Then again, every one who purchaces his sale bills at this office is granted the use of the REPUBLICAN Sale Register free of charge. Sale notices published in these columns are read by thousands of people every week. It will surely draw a larger crowd to your sale than you would otherwise have. No sale can be a complete success unless a large crowd attends it. Our sale register has drawn larg crowds for others and it will do the same for you. Give us a trial and be convinced.

ANOTHER COMBINATION.

Bituminous Coal Operators and Railroads Unite.

Recently the Beech Creek, Huntingdon and Broad Top, Baltimore, Norfolk and Western, Chesspeake and Ohio and the West Virginia Central railroad companies with the bituminous coal operators formed an agreement for the maintaining of prices and the restriction of tonnage for the ensuing year. This action was deemed necessary owing to the fact that the bituminous coal trade has been in a chaotic state for some time past, and many of the operators have worked their mines at a loss. The competition has been very great and as business began to fall off prices were reduced, and in this way the cutting grew from bad to worse.

At a meeting held in Philadelphia, a plan was adopted whereby the tonnage will be restricted and a minimum price, which is to be fixed later, will be charged for all coal sent to tidewater points. The details of the agreement are that the railroad companies will pro-rate the tonnage among themselves, each region to be given a certain percentage, and which, in turn, will be subdivided among operators of that district. The carrying out of the plan will be left in charge of an executive committee. The committee has been chosen from the various regions, the more important procuring the larger representation. The selection is as follows: Clearfield region, Beech Creek region and Cumberland region, two representatives each; Pocahontas, Chesapeake and Ohio and West Virginia central regions, one representative each. The executive committee is to have full control of the affairs of the association, but each operator is to handle his own product.

The Philadelphia Press says that it is thought that the agreement will be maintained, as it will be impossible for the coal companies to ship more than the arranged percentage, as the railroad companies will refuse to haul more than has been allotted. Besides adhering to the amount of tonnage agreed upon, the members of the associatien also agreed to not sell their coal below a certain price and as every operator signified their consent to abide by this, there will be very little chance for the cutting of prices. While the new tide water prices have not been agreed upon it is understood that they will not be any lower than $2.25 per ton at tidewater points. There was some talk of forming a general agency for the sale of all the coal, but this fell through. The advance in the price of bituminous coal will not only be beneficial to the coal people but also to the railroad companies. The roads most interested are the Pennsylvania, Beech Creek, Huntingdon Broad Top, Baltimore, Norfolk & Western, Chesapeake & Ohio and the West Virginia Central. The new association will begin operations on April 1, the commencement of the fiscal year of the bituminous coal trade, at which time all the contracts for the ensuing year are made.

Adolphus paused outside the door
To interview the scraper;
Within those walls her father sat
Intent on Sunday's paper.

Six times before he'd sought that door
On this same mission bent;
His courage failed—but now to-night
He'll ask papa's consent.

'Respected sir I've come to tell—
To ask my fate —oh, seal;
Oh, since the early spring time came
I've felt—I mean—I feel—"

Adolphus paused, with pallid cheek,
"Why boy—don't look morose!
Its biliousness! I've had it! here—
"Pleasant Pellets' take a dose!"

The Pellets cure constipation, biliousness, indigestion, piles, and all derangements of stomach, liver and bowels.

So Badly Frozen Died.

Reading, Pa., March 2—Dr. W. M. Snyder, who was so badly frozen during the recent cold weather, died last night. He had gone out to call on a patient when he was overcome by the cold and was not discovered until the next morning.

—The tracks of the Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis Railway have been extended into and around the grounds of the Tennessee Centennial Exposition. For the present the building materials are brought in by this means, and later over the same way the heavy exhibits will be conveyed to their places.

—Director General E. C. Lewis, of the Tennessee Centennial, has planned to erect a column of cotton bales one hundred feet high. The cotton will be loaned by commission merchants, and in order to hold them fast they will be stacked around a steel cylinder, on the top of which a crown of incandescent lights will revolve.

—As soon as the walks at the Tennessee Centennial grounds had been laid off, the open spaces were surrounded with temporary fences and the plots sown with blue grass. The Exposition will open May 1, 1897, and when that day comes there will not be a bare spot of earth in the park unless it was meant to be bare, and by that day also every building and feature will be finished and set.

At the A. M. E. Church.

On Sunday evening next, Rev. H. A. Grant will deliver a sermon to the Grand United Order of Odd Fellows at the A. M. E. church. A special invitation is extended to all members of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows. The public in general also is invited to attend these services.

ATTRACTIVE FIGURES come with good health. It is easily seen when a woman has perfect health, her face and figure show it. The painful disorders and diseases that afflict womankind make themselves seen as well as felt. Dull eyes, blotched or sallow face, and a wasted form, follow them. This is the time to turn to the right remedy. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription builds up and strengthens the system, and regulates and promotes every proper function. It's a quieting, soothing nervine. It corrects and cures, safely and surely, all those delicate derangements, weaknesses, irregularities and diseases peculiar to the sex.

For young girls just entering womanhood; woman at the critical "change of life"; and every woman who is "run-down" or overworked, it's something to remember that there's a medicine that will help you.

"FEMALE WEAKNESS."

MRS. BYRON DANARD.

MRS. BYRON DANARD, of Milford, Prince Edward Co., Ont., Canada, writes: "A few years ago my health failed. I was troubled with female disease in its worst form, having been afflicted about fifteen years. I was also troubled with constipation, loss of appetite, dizziness and ringing in my head, nervous prostration, hysteria, loss of memory, palpitation of the heart together with 'that tired feeling' all the time. I consulted several physicians — no one could clearly diagnose my case and their medicines failed to give relief. After much persuasion I commenced taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription—have taken five bottles and am a well woman doing my housework; from a run-down condition I have been restored to health. I feel it my duty to recommend your 'Favorite Prescription' for ladies afflicted with female diseases as I have been."

An Ingenious Jack.

May I give an instance of the power which dogs seem to posses of understanding what is said in their presence? We have a black-and-tan terrier called Jack, who has rooted objection of spending a night alone, and is therefore allowed to sleep with one of my brothers. A short time ago they were all from home and an order being given early in the evening (Jack being present) that he was to sleep with the groom away from the house. Jack, who always remains in the room until the rest of the household retire, disappeared this particular evening very soon after the order was given, and was not seen again. When we went up stairs, however, there he was curled up in an armchair in my youngest sister's bedroom, evidently settled for the night, and as we entered he looked up and wagged his tail, as if he were begging to be allowed to stay. As he had never been known to go to bed early by himself, or in that particular room, we all felt sure he had understood the order, and hoped by these means to escape.—London Spectator.

Are you ever Annoyed.

By a buzzing or roaring sound in your head? Have you difficulty in hearing distinctly? Are you troubled with a continual dropping of mucus, irritating the throat and causing you to cough? Is your breath unpleasantly affected and accompanied with bad taste? Is your hearing less acute? If so, you have catarrh and should at once procure a bottle of Ely's Cream Balm, the best known remedy. The Balm will give instant relief.

A Divided Jury.

A man was on trial in Lake county recently on a charge of grand larceny. He was accused or stealing a hog. An old rancher whose interest in the case was due to the fact that he owned a big drove of hogs listened attentively to the empaneling of the jury and then left the court room with undisguised disgust.

"What's the matter Sam?" inquired the attorney.

"That jury's goin' to disagree," he declared, emphatically.

"What makes you think so?"

"Think? I don't think nothing about it. I know it."

"Well, then, how do you know it?"

"Why, they've got six hog men that raise hogs and four men that I knows has stole hogs on that jury, an' nobody ever know'd a hog raiser an' a hog thief as would agree on a hog case."—San Francisco Post.

The House Takes Action.

Washington, March 2.—The house today, after two hours spirited debate under the limitation of a suspension of the rules by a vote of 263 to 17 agreed to (in lieu of the resolutions adopted Friday by the senate) the concurrent resolutions reported last week by its committee on foreign affairs declaring that in the opinion of congress a state of public war exists in Cuba, the parties to which are entitled to belligerent rights, and between whom the United States should observe a strict neutrality. They further declare that congress believes the only permanent solution of the contest is in the establishment of a government by the people of Cuba, and that it is the sense of congress that the government of the United States should use its good offices and influence to that end, and that the United States should be prepared to protect the legitimate interests of its citizens in Cuba by intervention if necessary. The last of the series of resolutions reported by the committee, pledging the support of congress to the president in carrying out the foregoing, was stricken out, it being thought unnecessary, being covered in the others.

In the morning hour a number of bills were passed by unanimous consent or under suspension of the rules, among them being the senate joint resolution directing the secretary of agriculture to purchase and distribute seeds, bulbs, etc., as has been done in preceding years.

After considering the legislative appropriation bill until 4.5o without conclusion, the house then adjourned until to-morrow.

DuBois Courier: For some time past, as is well known, drilling for oil or gas, or both, has been prosecuted upon the Taylor and McDonald tract, at the junction of Little and Big Anderson creeks, near Rockton, on the line of the C. & M. railroad. It was reported by several gentlemen from that section on Saturday, that oil had been struck at a depth of 1,500 feet, that the odor was strong and that the sand in which it was found was full of oil and that it was of the kind in which that product abounds. Much excitement was reported in the vicinity of the well being drilled.

Instead of a comparatively small affair in the short days and cheerless nights of the fall of the year, we have before us the vision of a magnificent Exposition beginning in the spring of 1897, when the trees are in leaf and the grass is green, and the flowers are blooming, running through the summer and ending in the early fall. That length of time will afford opportunity to all classes of citizens in all parts of the country to visit the Centennial and behold as in a great book the resources and thrift of Tennessee.

Will Not Parade.

The proposed parade of the "Blue and the Gray," in which Union and Confederate soldiers were to take part in New York city on July 4th next, has been declared off, the Commander in Chief, I. M. Walker, and other prominent members of the Grand Army of the Republic being opposed to the project. That such a proposition was advanced is indication that the barriers of prejudice have been removed to some extent, and it is one of the possibilities in the near future. The rank and file of the soldiers in both the armies are just as ready to exchange greetings to-day as they were to exchange tobacco and hard tack when in the front.

Must Use the Kkife

Said the Sugeon, But Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy Was Taken and The Knife Avoided.

The Union and Adverfiser of Rochester ., recently published the following interesting account of how William W. Adams of 127 South avenue, that city was saved from a painful operation by the use of Dr David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy.

Mr. Adams said: "Three years ago I was taken with kidney disease very badly; at times I was completely prostrated; in fact was so bad that the day was set for the doctors to perform an operation upon me. But I decided I would not submit. I had been put in hot water baths, and, in fact nearly every means was tried to help me. Upon the day set for the operation I commenced the use of Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, and from that moment began to gain, and it was not long before I was entirely cured and have had no return of the trouble since. My weight has increased and I never was so well as I am now. I have reccommened to many people, for it saved my life."

In speaking to Mrs. Adams, she said; "About a year ago I was in a very feeble state of health, being completely run down. I had doctored considerably, but without permanent relief. One day one of my neighbors advised me to take Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, which I did. My trouble was dyspepsia, and for a long while I was unable to be about at all but after taking a few doses I was completely cured, and now enjoy good health.

Hundreds of men and women with that "run down" condition, unable to work, have recovered health and strength through this remarkable remedy. It purifies the blood, stirs the liver and kidneys to a healthy action. In cases of rheumatism kidney, liver and urinary troubles, it is a wellknown specific.

Terrible Fire at Utica

Utica, N. Y., March 3.—The Genesee apartment house in this city was burned this morning. It was seven stories high and contained sixty-eight families, or about 250 inmates. The building was in a fashionable part of the city and the flats were occupied by people in good circumstances. The loss in household effects is large.

The building was completely destroyed. Some of the occupants escaped by stairs and others by the fire escapes. When this manner of escape was cut off by the flames upwards of forty persons were yet in the building. The ladders and aerial trucks proved inadequate, and the people were lowered from the fifth, sixth and seventh floors by means of bedclothes. Mrs. Hugh Hughes, an aged woman, lost her hold on the rope at the fifth floor and was dashed to death. Mrs. John Wood and daughter and Noble Hopkins, occupying rooms on the seventh floor, are missing, and it is feared that they were burned to death. James Potter jumped from the second floor and broke his leg. Many other minor injuries are reported. The building was the largest of its kind in Utica. It cost about $220,00, and was insured for $90,000. The total losses will aggregate from $500,000 to $900,000. The destruction of the building is complete.

It is certain that four lives were lost in the burning Genesee flats. They are Mrs. Hugh Hughes, who fell to the walk while escaping and died soon after; Mrs. John Wood, neice of the late Governor Seymour, her daughter Mary, 15 years of age and Noble Hopkins, 65 years of age. The bodies of these three have not been recovered. It is believed that two persons who were unconscious in the hall when some of the inmates escaped went down in the ruins. It is also rumored that one or two servants, and possibly one lady, who was visiting friends in the flats, were burned to death.

The House on Cuba.

By a vote as substantially unanimous as that of the Senate, the House has made its declaration on Cuba. Instead of substituting the Senate resolutions, it has adhered to its own. An agreement will be reached through conference.

Both resolutions recognize the existence of public war as a fact in Cuba. Both favor belligerent rights. Both pledge the strict neutrality of the United States. No resolution can increase this obligation and none can diminish it. Whether belligerents or not, whether in a revolt or in a war between independent countries, the United States is pledged by law and by policy to a rigid adherence to neutral obligations.

But in outlining national policy in this emergency, the House resolution goes farther than the Senate—so much farther that its passage by an overwhelming majority measures the advance and rise of national sentiment. The Senate proposed to offer the friendly offices of the United States to secure the recognition of the independence of Cuba.

The House does this and more. It urges the office of the United States to procure the recognition of independence, but it also expresses the opinion "that the government of the United States should be prepared to protect the legitimate interests of the United States by intervention, if necessary." This is a grave utterance. It is a deliberate preparation for war, "if necessary" It declares that while the United States has never interfered before in a colonial revolt, Cuba offers a new problem and new duties. Proximity, commerce and the paramount position of the United States—though this last is not mentioned in terms—are suggested as requiring preparation for action now and in due time will require action.

The broad duty of our country in this great exigency is coming to be more clearly recognized. The United States cannot sit idly by. We cannot permit civilization to be extinguished and barbarism to begin in Cuba. We cannot countenance Spanish cruelty by silence. We cannot permit massacre to go on with impunity. This country has a clear and unmistakable responsibility to see to it that a certain level of public action is preserved on this continent. We will permit no Armenia where both our power and our responsibility extend, and it is well that all the world should know it.—Philadelphia Press.

Spring Medicine

Is a necessity because the tonic of winter air is gone, and milder weather, increased moisture, accumulated impurities in the blood and debilitated condition of the body, open the way for that tired feeling, nervous troubles, and other ills. The skin, mucous membrane and the various organs strive in vain to relieve the impure current of life. They all welcome

"A year ago last spring I had a severe attack of inflammatory rheumatism which confined me to my bed for six weeks. I was treated by physicians and finally got around and went to work but my hands and limbs remained stiff and sore and the pains were severe at times. My wife prevailed upon me to take Hood's Sarsaparilla and I have taken about three bottles and the soreness and lameness have all disappeared." T. H. Cuban Bonds to Come.

New York, March 3.—The attitude of Congress toward the Cuban insurgents has given a great deal of encouragement to Cuban sympathizers in this city. It has been reported several times that the Cubans were to float an issue of bonds and if the United States recognizes the belligerency of the patriots this will not be delayed long. The bonds will probably be in small denominations and be payable within a year after the close of the war. The Republic of Cuba is preparing to issue postage stamps, in 2, 5, 10, and 25 cent denominations, for use in the interior of the island.

Indians Graduate.

Carlisle, Pa., February 27.—The commencement exercises of the Indian industrial school were held here in Assembly hall this afternoon before several thousand persons. Prayer was offered byRev. Dr. Hamlin, after which this programme was carried out by the following graduates: "Our To-days," Robert Jackson; "Indian Girls as teachers" Cinthia Webster: solo, "Judith," Linnie Thompson, "Our development a necessity," Delos Lone Wolf; "The Indian man," Elmer Simson; Cornet solo "My old Kentucky home," James Flannery.

Hartings, Senator Teller; Congressman Pendleton, ex-Gov. Nelson of Minnesota; Commisioner Harris and Gen. Fitzburg Lee, of Virginia. The latter said he was glad to pay his first visit to the Cumberland valley since the war when he took a conspicuous part in it. He was glad to meet the Indians to-day and see how they have advanced into civilization. "This school and the work of captain Pratt will long be remembered by the people of this country The education of the Indian is a great affair and Congress should appropriate enough money to carry on this institution."

The State League of Ball Players.

Lancaster, Pa., February 27.—The State League of Base Ball clubs held a harmonious session this evening, but decided to postpone the announcement of the schedule until next week, when a meeting will be held at York. The schedule committee consists of Lancaster, Philadelphia and Carbondale. Easton was admitted to the league and financially qualified, as did all other clubs. For the remaining vacancy applications were received from Pottsville, Harrisburg, Allentown and Shamokin, but the lucky city will not be determined until next week. The president was authorized to settle the claim of ex-President Hanlon.

The Lancaster plan of guarantee was adopted. It requires each club to deposit $250 by April 1, subject to the order of the president as assurance the club will play out the season.

President Hough was authorized to represent the league at the meeting of minor leagues in Washington on March 16, which is to be held to consider the new national agreement.

Wilkesbarre, Feb., 27—An experimental train was run over the Lehigh Valley R R to-day to see just what time could be made between New York and Buffalo. The train consisted of one engine, two pullman cars, the Marcella, and Arberdeen, and two ordinary coaches. The object was to make the run —499 miles—in ten and a half hours, or an average rate of 42 4-5 miles an hour, counting all the stops. The train started from Jersey City at 11.30 a. m. to-day, arriving here at 4.10, two minutes ahead of time including the changing of engines, expecting to reach here at ten o'clock to-night On board the train were Rollin Wilbur, general supertendant and other officers of the road. The dead man was passing the house of the murderer when the shooting took place. Eisenhower is in jail.

ASPARAGUS.

The Most Popular of all Vegetables in its Season—Useful Both as a Food and as a Medicine—Its Sovereign Medical Virtues.

Scarcely one person in ten but what is fond of Asparagus. Though relished as a food, but few persons know that they are really taking a medicine.

French scientists first discovered that the whole plant, but more particularly the root and the berries, contained a white crystalline substance known as "Asparagin."

Experiments on both human beings and animals proved conclusively that the action of Asparagin was directly on the kidneys themselves, and that it posseseed marvelous powers of healing and strengthening these organs, and in assisting them in doing their most important work of filtering the poisons and impurities out of the blood and casting them out with th urine.

You yourself, must have noticed the increased flow of urine and the peculiar odor it has, after you have eaten Asparagus.

But, of course, there is very little of the medical virtues of Asparagus in the ew shoots, or tops, eaten at a meal.

It is found principally in the roots, the dried tops and the berries.

It is from these that the now celebrated Hobb's Sparagus Kidney Pills are made, and in them will be found the medical principle of the Asparagus in its purest and most active form.

These little pills agree with the most delicate stomach, and make strong and healthy kidneys, clean and pure blood, and bright, clear active mind an absolute certainty.

For sexual weakness in men and sterility in women they are an unfailing specific.

Dr. Hobb's Sparagus Kidney Pills are endorsed by the best physicians and sold by druggists at 50 cents.

William Hardon (colored), aged about 60 years, died at Benezette on Wednesday. The body will arrive in Bellefonte this afternoon at 5.15 o'clock and will be taken to the home of Thomas Taylor on North Penn street. It is not known at this writing just when the funeral will take place. The deceased was well known in Bellefonte, having for many years been in the barbering business here.

The Sugar Valley.

The corps of engineers who were at work on the Bellefonte & Philipsburg link of the Sugar Valley railroad, are now at work near Philipsburg. The Journal says the new railroad may lead to the development of coal fields on the mountains east of Philipsburg. Coal of a very good quality is known to exist in sections through which the new road is expected to traverse, not far distant from Philipsburg.

Ousted the Burgess.

Williamsport, Pa., Feb.25—Judge Metzger to-day rendered a decision ousting G.H. Cline from the office of burgess of Jersey Shore, and ruling that H.D. Seely is the legal burgess. The latter was appointed by the court to fill out the unexpired term of C. Pott, and Cline was elected for a full term in 1895. The court rules that the act of Assembly provides for uniformity, and a person cannot be elected for a full term when a vacacy occurs. The adpointee serves until a successor is elected at the regular election.

SAPOLIO

HER MISTAKE.

She was plump, but dainty, with a neat figure and a round, rosy face. She wore a black cape over a gray skirt, and carried a queer little dog's eared volume entitled "Hymnody." Her eyes were big and soft. She had an Irish mouth and a Welsh chin, with a dimple in it.

We met, for the first and last time, on the towing path between Windsor and Staines. I noticed her when she was quite a hundred yards away, and admired her grace of movement. The towing path was narrow and rugged just at that point, so that we touched elbows as we passed and our eyes met. Immediately she uttered a little cry and fixed a pair of pince nez across her nose.

"Why, it's Jack!" she cried. "How are you, Jack? Where have you been all these years? And what have you been doing?"

My name is Arthur, but her hand was too small and soft to relinquish with unnecessary suddenness.

"I knew you at once," she affirmed, "I can't say I think the mustache an improvement."

"No?" I murmured doubtfully.

"No. It has taken all the character out of your face."

I felt quite sorry for her. She would be so confused. I still held her hand.

"Well," she said, screwing her eyebrows, "and what have you done since I saw you last—acquired modesty?"

It would be very awkward.

"N-not exactly," I stammered.

She laughed.

"I'll walk with you as far as Windsor," she said. "I suppose you are going to Windsor? Or will you walk with me to Staines? Just as you like. I am living at Staines now, you know—in a little room overlooking the river—at a pound sterling per week inclusive—occasional use of the parlor."

"Oh, look at the sky!" she cried suddenly. "All those sprawling gray dragons in bas relief against the blue. Isn't it wonderful? Yet they say my skies are impossible. Nothing is impossible, Jack, is it?"

"Nothing, except to contradict you."

"Even that was not impossible in the ol days"

There was another silence. It lasted till we reached Staines. I was grateful for the pause. We stopped outside a white, flat fronted house facing the river. I held forth my hand.

"Oh, nonsense, Jack," she said, "you must come in and see the parlor!"

We went into the house. The street-door was not locked. The parlor was a small, ugly, comfortable room, with a big bowl of flowers in the window, athwart which fell a band of yellow sunshine.

"I want to show you some of my poor little pictures."

We went into her room, a large apartment, lighted from above. A modest little bed was in the corner, squeezed away into the mirk as if rest had but a small part in the life of its owner. At the head of the bed was a small mirror and other toilet accessories on a white draped dressing table. At its foot stood a deal washstand. In the center of the room sprawled a great yellow easel bearing a canvas. There were other easels and canvases distributed throughout the room, and plaster casts and clay figures, all the usual paraphernalia of the painter's craft added.

The little lady snatched down the large canvas from the great yellow easel and stood it with its face to the wall.

"Not that," she said. "That is a study in failures. I will show you something more modest." She went to a stack of pictures in the corner. "See here," she cried, holding up a tiny sketch before me, "'Light on the Bar,' more modest still. And here, throwing me an odd glance, compounded of sonquetry and laughing doubt, 'is a picture the subject of which is not modest."

She put her hand on my arm and led me to the center of the room. Then she gave the picture into my hands. It was the portrait of a man, strangely resembling myself, drawn in the style of the Dutch school, with the light concentrated on the eyes and brow.

"Do you like it?" she asked me.

"It is wonderful," I whispered.

"I did it just—just after that night," she said.

"I was troubled at heart, for there was a note other than the mocking note of light comedy in her voice. I feared th trend of the situation was toward perhaps tragedy.

"It seems so strange that we should meet again like this," she said, "and yet not strange. For our corner in the world is a very little place, after all You have grown very old and manly and grave Jack. I am just beginning to realize that now. I didn't at first. You mustn't think that mean to be rude to you Jack. Perhaps I hardly ought to call you Jack.'

"Yes," I said eagerly, "call me Jack."

"Thank you ,Jack," she murmured beaming. "You are a dear old boy. The same old Jack! I was sure you wouldn't mind, Jack."

"Yes."

"Did—did it—did I hurt you much Jack, that night? You know, I hadn't thought of you in that way at all. It came on me so suddenly. And my art was so much to me. To marry meant to give up, you see. And, then, I didn't understand myself, and you were so fierce and foolish and wild. I have wondered ever since that I had the courage to refuse you, Jack, you were such a splendid tempest of a boy."

I was filled with contrition and shame.

"Pray, pray don't speak of it," I said.

"It isn't fair to yourself. I have no right to listen."

"I care not how unfair she be if only she be fair to—herself! Eh? And you have every right to listen, Jack. I give you right, full right. Besides I have to talk about. It is so long ago, too, and we are so much older. Surely, it does not matter. It was such a tender time, a time of dancing blood, Jack. We shall never live it again, never more foot it to the same giddy measure. We are half burned out now, like bloated candles in the cold dawn. We have tainted our atmosphere with the consuming of our own fires."

The flush in her cheeks died, leaving them pallid. Her head drooped and her hands fell listlessly.

"You forgive me Jack don't you?" she said presently.

I could not speak. Silence were best I was wrung with vain regret. The poo little lady!

"When yo uwent away that night," she said "you took more with you than you knew. Had you come back it might have been all different. I cried many nights thinking of you. It was your loneliness that made me cry. We had been such good chums. And I was lonely too."

She paused. Half unconsciously I took her hand in mine.

"They tell me you are married Jack," said she presently. It is quite true, I suppose. Why shouldn't it be? "And do you love your wife very. very dearly, Jack?"

She turned half from me, her hands busy with the folds of her dress. I had no words to answer her. Suddenly she uttered a great cry, and sank down in a chair covering her face with her hands.

"Listen, listen" she said hoarsely, tapping my hand with her fingers. "This is the truth. I do hope you love her very dearly I hope you take her in your arms to your heart and kiss her always when you meet. I hope you are proud of her and set her above all women above me. No no, listen, Jack, listen! Don't try to stop me. You must not go away thinking me worse than I am.

"This is the truth— this is the truth, let me confess or have I confessed already? I love you Jack. I always shall love you. I hungered for you all of these years I can't keep silent. But we shall not see each other again. It does not matter. and there will be something to remember. The years are very long —very long— and my art is something stale to me, and my life has gone ont of my brain, and the cunning from my hand. I am doing her no harm. Surely I may have my little moment. She has all her life for her very own. I have been meek, Jack. I have been ever cheerful. I would not have spoken now if—if— It's a hard price to pay for a little mistake. I was very young too. And everything was so possible. Oh my God!"

And she bowep her head on her arm against the wall.

"Leave me alone, Jack," she said "Leave me alone for one moment. I've cried against this wall before. I shall be better presently. It always does me good. And I had meant to be so strong if we should meet!"

It tore my heart to see her. I went up to her and put my hand on her shoulder. She caught it in her disengaged fingers and pressed it.

The twilight descended on us standing thus.

"Goodby Jack!" she said, with her hand on the latch.

"Goodby!" I answere d

She put up her lips. I would have kissed them lightly. but she drew my head down and wound her arms around my neck.

"This once" she pleaded. "It is such a little sin!"

"Goodby" she said again, the glory of her eyes shining through her tears.

She opened the door and I passed into street.

Advertising Axioms.

Lack of trade is bitter, but results from good advertising are sweet.

"Art is long but life is short," Don't make your "ad" too long or too short.

"The effect ceases with the cause." Therefore, advertise with constancy.

"Ads" should be written in words that burn, but not necessarily in glowing language.

The motto of New Mexico: "It increases by going." So does an "ad." Is yours going?

"The burden which is well borne becomes light," and the "ad." well printed brings heavy results.

"Better be wise than rich," says an old proverb, but the majority by far would rather advertise and get rich.

A Little Boy's Prayer.

A little Bellefonte boy was making his nightly prayer just before he got into bed. His mother happened to be standing in the hall and heard him. Attempt to Rob a Bank.

Warren, Ark., Feb., 25—A daring but unsuccessful attempt was made to rob the Merchants and Planters bank of this place to-day. About 3:30 o'clock the men entered the bank and two of them went behind the enclosure where Mr. Adair, the cashier was seated in conversation with Messrs. T.Goodwin and D. Sutton. The first salutation was: "Hold up your hands." Mr. Adair sprang for his pistol when the men commenced shooting and Mr. Goodwin received what is thought to be a mortal wound, and Adair was shot through the shulder. He returned the firing and evidently wounded one of the men, as he rode off he was seen to be bleeding. The firing aroused the citizens who came running from all directions, and the robbers were forced to retire without accomplishing their object. As they rode out of town they kept up a fusillade of shots and went out northwest of the town. The plans were well laid, and no doubt the bank would have been looted but for the promptness of Adair with pistol. Goodwin is in a critical condition. Adair's wound is very painful, but not dangerous. In order to make their escape more effective, it is thought the rascals had a confederate to tamper with the telegraph wires' and thus cut off telegraphic communication.

Several citizens had narrow escapes from the flying bullets, and the interior of the bank is preforated with bullet holes. A full description of the men has been telegraphed to all accessible points, and a stroug armed force is in close pursuit of them.

A Girl In the Case.

On Friday afternoon Eber Rothrock was arraigned before Squire Keichline charged with assault and battery. He waived a hearing and entered bail for his appearance at court. John Bell was the prosecutor. It seems that on Thursday evening Rothrock attended the revival services at the court house and while there was talking to some ladies. Bell, it is alleged, came up to him and told him to keep quiet. Rothrock replied it was none of his (Bell's) business whether he talked to the girls or not and thus one word brought on another. They were however separated there before any blows were struck. Bhe matter was not to end there.

On Friday afternoon Rothrock met Bell on the street and asked him what business he had to meddle in his affairs and what he meant by approaching him as he did at the court house on Thursday evening. Bell replied that he had a right to interfere and then the fun commenced. Bif! Bang! Whow! It was a regular Fitzsimmons-Maher battle, only a little longer. After the smoke had cleared away it was found that Bell was Mr. Maher. This was more than pride could stand,and the defeated "peace demander" proceeded to get vengeance via. the law route. A warrant was sworn out for Rothrock's arrest, and he was taken before 'Squire Keichline. Now the courts will have to decide whether or not Rothrock had a right to talk to the girl and whether Bell was justified in taking part in the conversation.

As President Andrew's great History serial in Scribner's Magazine draws to a conclusion the very entertaining quality of it, which has been generally acclaimed, is intensified. The March installment contains a pictorial record also that is unique in Magazine illustration, giving 35 pictures in one article,—including original and very artistic views of the World's Fair, reproduced in pen drawings of unusual beauty. The Homestead riots and the Tennessee convict troubles are also fully illustrated from instantaneous photographs. The text gives, among other striking passages, an interesting summary of the marvelous advance made by electricity in recent years.

Bidding Him Good-Bye.

On Friday afternoon Evangelist Weaver departed for western cities, after a very successful series of revival services in Bellefonte. A large number of people were assembled at the station to see him off and they put in the time singing hymns. Fully an hundred voices joined in on the different selections and, as at the Court House, Evangelist Weaver lead the singing. As the train pulled out there were many handkerchiefs fluttering and cries of "good-bye" could be heard until the train had disappeared from view.

Preached His Farewell Sermon.

Rev. Weaver preached his last evening service in Bellefonte on Thursday. Today he leaves for St. Louis where he will conduct a series of revivals. The meeting Thursday was a grand one. Early in the evening it became evident that the crowd was going to be a large one. The people flocked there by the hundreds and long before the time for the meeting to commence every seat was filled and standing room was at a premium. It was indeed a fitting close of a great work. Perhaps no other evangelist has ever accomplished so great a work in Bellefonte and everybody turned out to show their adpreciation of his service. When the fina hymn was sung everybody joined in an the old Court House walls were made to echo and re-echo again and again. M y were the tears by the caused peakers farewell words.

There were many in that assemblage that realized that the man who had done them so much good was about to leave, and it wa no wo nder they were so deeply touched. The meeting was kept up until a late hour and up to the last minute the interest was just as great if not greater than any time of the meeting.

A short service was held at the court house this afternoon prior to Rev. Weaver taking the 5.15 train for the west.

The faculty investigated the matter and suspended four of the students until September, 1897. Two of the young men are sons of prominent citizens here.

A Mother's Story.

SHE RELATES THE EXPERIENCE OF HER DAUGHTER.

Sick From Childhood—Given up By Physicians—She at Last Regains Her Health.

From the Herald, Titusville, Pa.

Learning that the daughter of Mrs. J. J. Moore, who lives near Titusville, had been suffering with ills peculiar to her sex for a number of years and had been fully restored to health, a reporter of the Herald was detailed to investigate the case.

The reporter accordingly drove out to the Moore residence and on inquiring regarding her daughter's health, Mrs. Moore said:

"Yes, it is true, my daughter who is now eighteen years old has been in poor health from childhood. About a year ago her menses began to come but were very irregular and finally stopped altogether for three or four months.

"Later, in March of this year, she became very sick; her color all left her and she was as pale as a ghost. She was taken with a cough, with bleeding of the nose and severe hemorrhages. She became so weak that she could not leave her bed. Her cough became more and more aggravated and it looked as if consumption would soon take her away.

"Local physicians were consulted, numerous patent medicines were used, but she continued to get worse and was finally given up by the physicians, who said she could not recover, and all hopes for her getting up again were lost.

"My son one day chanced to pick up a book telling of Pink Pills for Pale People, and taking it home he handed it to his sister with the remark, 'here is something for pale people.'

"She read it through carefully, and thinking it might possibly benefit her I procured a box at the drug store of Mr. T. W. Reuting, of Titusville, and after she had used them only three days we noticed a marked improvement in her condition, and after taking the contents of two or three boxes, she had entirely recovered, and is now the picture of health.

"Her cough has entirely left her, she has rosy cheeks and her menses now are regular, and she is a stout, healthy girl and all from the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People.

"I do not hesitate in giving Pink Pills the entire credit, and have frequently recommended them to my neighbors, some of whom report equally as good results.

"My husband, who has been bad with kidney difficulty for nearly twenty-five years, found it necessary to get up a number of times during the night, has been using Pink Pills of late, and after only a few days finds the difficulty almost entirely removed."

(Signed.) Lavena Moore.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this third day of December, A. D., 1895.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills contain, in a condensed form, all the elements necessary to give new life and richness to the blood and restore shattered nerves. They are an unfailing specific for such diseases as locomotor ataxia, partial paralysis, St. Vitus' dance, sciatica, neuralgia, rheumatism, nervous headache, the after effect of la grippe, palpitation of the heart, pale and sallow complexions, all forms of weakness either in male or female. Pink Pills are sold by all dealers, or will be sent post paid on receipt of price, 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 (they are never sold in bulk or by the 100), by addressing Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

Out for Treasurer.

Hon. Fred Kurtz, editor of the Centre Hall Reporter has announced himself as a candidate for County Treasurer. While we do not exactly look at the political side of life the same as Mr. Kurtz does, yet, we know of no democrat in the county who would make a better official than he. If it must be a democrat we truly hope the prize will go to Mr. Kurtz.

About That Gold.

Some time ago the Republican made the announcement that gold quartz had been discovered within twenty miles o Bellefonte. Several specimens were sent away for analysis. A report was received to-day saying that the gold was of a superior quality but not in sufficient quantities to warrant mining it.

—Queen Victoria's reign wasn't in it with the rain we had last night.

—There were no through mails from Phialdelphia this morning.

—A Kansas City murderess wept so copiously that they had to bail her out.

—Instead of saying banquet to-day some of the College boys are muttering bank broke.

—The Indiana glass works are soon to start, giving employment to quite a number of men.

—On or about the 1st of April a bank is to be opened in Coalport. It will be named the Exchange.

—John Musheno, a young man residing in Nippenose valley, Clinton county, while practicing in a game of base ball a few days ago fell on the frozen ground and had one of his knee caps torn off.

—A few days ago a mad dog bit twelve persons in the village of Turbotville, Lycoming county. He then ran to Watsontown where the rapid animal bit two children. The Williamsport Sun says the dog was finally attracted to the barn of Seth T. Micher, a butcher, where he found Mr. Micher, and whom he viciously attacked. The butcher defended himself with a pitchfork until he reached the house. He secured his gun and extended the muzzle through the crack in the door. It was no sooner done than the dog grabbed the muzzle between his teeth, only to have his head nearly shot off by the gun's discharge.

At one of the hotels, in Bellefonte, its bar contains thirty-two distinct brands of whiskey, and there are persons in that place who can tell one from the other with their eyes shut, without the aid of good Deacon Frantz Speere. Yet Bellefonte is a temperance town, jointly controlled by the W. C. T. U. and the Y. M. C. A. and Newton Baily.—Horne.

In the Century for March will be an editorial entitled "Plenty of Gold in the World," setting forth the latest statistics on this subject and their significance as related to our finance system.

PAY A

CLEAR PROFIT

OF OVER

A MILLION DOLLARS

A YEAR EACH.

For the purpose of increasing the circulation of the New York Daily and Sunday Mercury, established 58 years ago, the Mercury Printing Co. offers the best investment in the world to small investors. Smart investors now have an opportunity to secure some of the stock of this great enterprise. They can buy New York Mercury stock at the very low price of $10 per share. The Mercury Printing Company is incorporated under the laws of the State of New York. The capital is $500,000, divided into 50,000 shares of $10 each, full paid and non-assessable. Stockholders have no individual liability whatever. This stock is a safe, solid and highly profitable security that is certain to pay large dividends and rapidly increase in value. It gives the small investor an equal chance with the capitalist, as a person with a small sum to invest can buy from one share upward at the same price a capitalist buys thousands of shares. When one considers the very high prices that stock in other New York newspapers commands, it is apparent that this present opportunity to buy New York Mercury stock at $10 is one of those chances that occur only once in a lifetime, for at the present rate of increase shown in the past six months in the circulation and in the advertising, the stock is absolutely sure to pay enormous dividends and rapidly rise in value.

The advertising receipts of the Mercury have doubled since Aug. 1, 1895, and the circulation has increased at the rate of 150 per cent. since April 1, 1895, on the Daily, Weekly and Sunday editions, and is continuing to increase at the same rate

We will send one copy of the Daily and Sunday Mercury free to every shareholder as long as the stock is held by him or his assigns. For example, if a subscriber purchases ten shares of stock he will be entitled to ten copies of the Daily and Sunday Mercury free to his own or any other address as long as he continues to be a stockholder of the corporation. These copies of the paper may be disposed of by subscribers to the capital stock in any way desired by them.

There will be only a limited amount of this stock disposed of in this way. Those who are lucky enough to obtain these shares will find that in a very short time they will be worth 200 per cent. premium.

Local Department.

March certainly came in very much un lamb-like.

—The ups and downs of life are fully demonstrated at meal time.

— A local theatrical manager gives a bottle of hair restorer with every front seat.

—The little boys are already commencing to lay in their stock of commies and white-allies.

—Probably the reason one never hears of ladies' fire companies is because they would need too much hose.

—The reason so many of Bellefonte's dudes are goodlooking is because the water they bathe in is soft.

—There are some spicy rumors afloat in Bellefonte just now. It is to be sincerely hoped they are not correct.

—The reason Mr. Mingle knows just exactly where he stands is because he foots up his business every day.

—Abram Dile, of Centre township, Perry county, recently caught a curiosity in the shape of a white flying squirrel.

—One would hardly know that this was leap-year by the few weddings that have taken place in Bellefonte so far this year.

—Crusty—"Heavens! Your linen is the dirtiest I ever saw. How long do you wear a shirt?" Wigwag—"Not quite to my knees.

—John Kobler, a Russian, aged 20, committed suicide in Jenner township, Somerset county, on Wednesday, by hanging himself in a barn.

—This winter has been so changeable that one hardly knows, upon starting out in the morning, whether to wear an overcoat or a linen duster.

—The reason so many of the theatrical troupes break up is because there are too many cases of stage fright—with the emphasis on the fright.

—The Williamsport Water company proposes to build a large connecting main from Rose to Mulberry streets, in that city, at a cost of $25,000.

—Captain J. S. Hall, of Renovo, aged 70 years, died at his home in that place on Monday morning. He was at one time sheriff of Centre County.

—It is said that the material for bathing suits costs twelve cents per yard and that it costs three cents for a suit. Of course this doesn't include the suspenders.

—There is a bill now before the New York Legislature to prohibit tights. It is not known which it means—barroom tights or fashionable bathing suits.

—Are you a sufferer from that terrible plague itching piles? Doan's Ointment will bring you instant relief and permanent cure. Get it from your dealer.

—The Washington Star says that very few people know we are indebted to the hornet fort he discovery of pulp. Wonder weather this is Cal. Dunham's Hornet.

—On Thursday Amos O. Caven, a prominent citizen of Derry, died suddenly of heart disease. He was engaged in the banking business, and leaves a wife but no children.

—Daniel Gray, of Spangler, was so badly injured on Wednesday of last week by being thrown against a fence by the upsetting of a load of hay that his recovery is considered doubtful.

—August Hanner of Nippenose Valley, one day last week killed two copperhead snakes which he found under his wood pile. The snakes were frozen stiff when found by Mr. Hanner.

—From outward appearances the devil is certainly getting in his work in Bellefonte. Icy pavements will cause a man's angry passions to rise and there is no use trying to make believe they won't.

—Antis Ellis of Alexandria, Huntingdon county, has been bound over in the sum of $800 for his appearance at court on the charge of setting fire to his house and barn in Porter township on June 20th last.

—Rev. F. L. Senorer, pastor of the Presbyterian church at New Alexandria, Westmoreland county, notified his congregation on Sunday of his intention of resigning. Failing health is given as the cause.

—Religion is all right if it is true, but we don't believe in a man clubbing his wife because his supper wasn't cooked just right and then go to a religious meeting in the evening and cry out "Hallelujah!" every other moment.

—Several days ago William Burd, of Centre Hall, while out in the mountains with his father felling trees, was caught by a falling hemlock and pinned to the groued, rendering him unconsious. His father hastily removed the tree and summoned a physician. The young man was taken home. His back and abdomen were badly injured.

—A young man came to Bellefonte and registered as "so and so and lady." He then gave it out that he was married. The couple were only at the hotel for dinner. The individual in question might get awake some morning and find a lovely breach of promise suit on his hands. He then will wish he had not said he was married when he wasn't.

DEATH OF A GOOD WOMAN.

Miss Sarah C. Rankin Dies in Bellefonte on Saturday.

Once again death, that grim destroyer of frail humanity, has entered our midst and this time it stole away all that was mortal of Miss Sarah Rankin.

It was a great schock to everybody, for while it was known to some that she was ill yet no one expected such a fatal and sad termination. The deceased had been complaining for about two years but it was not thought to be anything serious. On Thursday last she rapidly grew worse and continued to sink until between 3 and 4 o'clock Saturday morning when death came to relieve all suffering. Thus ended the life of a good woman, always kind and cheerful she had made a large circle of friends. Quiet and unassuming at all times she was a model of goodness. The esteem in which she was held is best enviced by the genuine sorrow manifested by everybody over her sudden calling away. By her death a vacancy has been causedthat will be hard to fill. The full extent of her kindness will only be appreciated by her friends when they finally realize that she is no more. Her smile has been seen for the last time; her last act of charity and kindness has been done. She has passed into the great beyond where she will reap the reward of a good life.

The real case of death was catarrh of the bowells. She was a great sufferer but all her sufferings were borne with a patience wonderful to witness.

A mother, one brother, W.B. Rankin, and a sister, Miss Carrie Rankin are left to mourn their sad loss.

The funeral services over the remains of the late Miss Sarah C. Rankin were held at 3 o'clock this afternoon from the Presbyterian church. The services were unusually impressive and everyone who assembled at the church seemed to realize that they were soon to leave behind one whose place would always remain vacant. It was indeed a sad moment and one not soon to be forgotten.

A well arranged choir softly sang the different funeral hymns. Rev. Dr. Laurie D. D., conducted the services. He paid a beautiful tribute to the memory of the deceased and his remarks caused tears to flow from the eyes of many. He dwelt chiefly on her many excellent qualities and pictured her reception into the grand beyond. He also extended comforting words to the friends in their hour of sorrow, but emphasized the fact that while she had led a christian life on earth, yet she was only passing into a better world—a world and home of christians.

After the service at the church the cortege slowly wended its way to the Union cemetery. The pall bearers were A. C. Mingle, Robert Cole, Archibald Allison, Mitchell Gardner, J. W. Alexander, and B. C. Achenbach. The services at the grave were brief owing to the extreme cold. After the friends and relatives had taken a last look at their dear sister everybody turned away feeling that they were leaving behind one who, although dead, would ever live and be cherished in their memories.

Indeed A Great Work.

On Friday the Evangelist Leonard Weaver, closed the labors which for the past four weeks he has carried on unceasingly here. He was met at the train upon which he took his departure, by a dense throng of his friends and co-workers numbering hundreds, who with feelings of the deepest regret, and genuine sorrow, bade him goodby. At the last moment, and as the train came in, he started a hymn of of parting, which was taken up by the throng, and he moved away under the same impressive surroundings which have characterslzed his entire work here. Never in her history, has Bellefonte seen such a religious awakening. Hundreds have been brought into the light of the gospel truths, and it is safe to say that thousands have been brought into instrumentality, to a deeper realization of their responsibility and Christian duty. Should he ever return to Bellefonte, which now seems probable, he will be met by a warmth of feeling and responsive Spirit, that cannot fail to be productive of great results.

Fell on the Ice.

While walking along Bishop Street on Sunday morning Walter Gherity slipped on the ice pavement in front of Blackford's Restaurant and fell heavily to the pavement. Fortunately he was uninjured beyond being badly bruised.

How do you like the new council President? There is probably no man in Bellefonte more capable of filling the office than the new head of the Burough Dads.

"What can I do to Be Saved?" is the cry heard upon all sides in Bellefonte just now. Subscribe for the Daily News is the best thing you can do to insure escape from the lower regions. Try it once and be convinced.

Applying for License.

This is License Court week and the lawyers are busy handing in the applications for licenses. Altogether there are thirty-nine applications this year. Of these, six are from Bellefonte and fifteen from Philipsburg.

A Terrible Runaway.

A frightful runaway occurred early this morning which might have caused two deaths. As it was it resulted in a badly wrecked wagon, a torn set of harness and a team of badly bruised horses. It seems that two men were driving along the Jacksonville road about a mile northeast of Bellefonte when the horses suddenly scared at a dog which came out of a field and ran across the road in front of them. They started on a run and the occupants of the rig were thrown out into the road. The horses continued on their mad race and every moment becoming more badly frightened. The lines dropped down and became entangled about the horses legs and soon tripped them and with a fearful lunge the horses fell forward and were so compietely wrapped up into the harness that they were unable to get up. The drivers soon limped up to them and after considerable trouble succeeded in getting the team hitched up again and started on their painful journey home

An Exciting Scene.

On Wednesday afternoon Mrs. Jerry Roan of Buffalo Run, drove down to Bellefonte to attend to some business. She hitched her horse along Allegheny street near Schadd's Plumbing store. While she was doing some shopping several little boys came along and commenced to snow ball each other. The horse became frightened and plunged in onto the pavement and almost into the plumbing store. The buggy was badly wrecked and the harness was torn to pieces before the struggling animals could be caught. It was a miracle that somebody wasn't killed and very fortunate that the damage wasn't greater.

This should be a warning to the boys. Snow balling should not be allowed on the streets at all. There is a law prohibiting it and it should be rigidly enforced.

To Change the Trout Season.

A number of local anglers, of Allentown, will have a law introduced at the next session of the legislature to change the trout season, which now extends from April 15 to July 15. It is proposed to make the season from May 1st to August 1st. It is contended that trout have not a chance to get fat by April 15, and that the weather is not favorable to trout fishing so early. The change is approved by Superintendent Creveling, of the State Fishery.

Out Serenading.

On Thursday evening the Undine band made its appearance on the streets and proceeded to the house of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Shoemaker where it rendered a delightful serenade. Upon returning the Brant House was included in the list of favored ones and it also received recognition. The Undines are good musicians, the only trouble is we don't hear enough of them.

To Hold a Dance.

The members of the Undide Fire Company will hold their annual grand Easter Ball on Monday evening April 6th. Indications are that it will be a grand success in every particular. The Undines have made a great name for themselves with their dances and the one this year will no doubt be conducted on even a grander scale than those of former years. Watch for further announcements.

Before the 'Squire.

Ira From was arraigned before 'Squire Keichline on Thursday evening charged with cruelly beating a little girl named Smith, whom he adopted about a year ago. After the testimony was all in the 'Squire dismissed the case owing to the lack of evidence. The wife of From was severely reprimanded for her treatment of the child and upon her promising to treat it better in the future, she too was discharged.

Married Man in Trouble.

Constable Dunlap went to Lock Haven and arrested Owen McMann on Tuesday on two serious charges preferred by a Bellefonte girl. McMannwas brought to this place and lodged in jail. He was held in $500 bail on both counts. His case will come up in the April term of court McMann is a recently married man.

Miss Minnie Breon gave a delightful German at the Arcade Hall on Saturday evening. Besides those from town there were quite a number of attendants from State College.

A new register has been put on the counter at the German House office. A. A. Dale, of Bellefonte, was the first one to register his name in the new book.

If Still Alive.

"Do you rectify mistakes here?" asked a gentleman as he stepped into a drug store. "Yes sir, we do, if the patient is alive," replied the urbane clerk. Never was a druggist called upon to answer such a question, after selling a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Do not be hopeless although you are thin and pale. In spite of a dry hacking cough, night sweats and slight spitting of blood, you need not fill a consumptive's grave. Take the "discovery" and you will soon be rid of the troubles which harass you. But do not delay. Delay may mean death and that mistake you cannot rectify Sold under a positive guarantee of cure if taken in time—or money returned.

Buried on Sunday.

The funeral services over the remains of the late William Harden were held from the residence of Thomas Taylor on Penn street at three o'clock Sunday after-noon. Rev. H. A. Grant officiated. The services were attended by the many friends of the deceased who was a member of the G. A. R. of Elk county. The interment was made at the Union Cemetery.

The pall bearers were Frank Miller, Wm. Lee, George Brown, Al. Stewart G. Thomas and Jefferson Hayden.

A Small Land Slide.

This morning when the passenger train on the Bellefonte Central started for the College it encountered a small land slide at Hastings Station. The heavy rains on Friday night had washed some mud and gravel on the track from the mountain. The train was stopped and a crew of men put to work to shovel away the dirt. It caused a delay of several hours but besides that no damage was done.

A Correction.

In our account of the Odd Fellows' banquet in Thursday's REPUBLICAN we neglected to mention that W. M. Chronister of Port Matilda, was one of the after-dinner speakers. Mr. Chronister made a neat address, which was full of fun and facts combined. The failure to mention his speech was not intentional and we cheerfully make the correction. Mr. Chronister is an Odd Fellow well worth the name of that distinguished order.

A Brief Case.

Ira From was arrested on Wednesday charged with abducting a child from a lady named Parks. He was taken before 'Squire Keichline where it was shown that From had adopted the child several years ago and that a short time ago Mrs. Parks had persuaded the child to come to her house and stay. From then went and took the child from Mrs. Parks. The 'Squire held that he was justified in doing so and the case was disposed of.

Why he Smiles.

Reuben Miller is indeed one of the happiest men in Centre county just now, and he has reason for being so too. On Tuesday a dear little girl came to make her home at his place and he has fully decided to keep her. Congratulations.

A Queer Sign.

The county commissioners have posted a sign in the court house hall that is worth any man's time to read it. While it is rather confusing yet we must say "God bliss their intintions anyway."

The Road Man of Texas.

One of the features and a most valuable medium to the isolated settlers of the Lone Star State is the Road Man. Equipped with a team of wiry mustangs, and wagon, whose capacious interior is filled with the many necessities of pioneer life—from the tiny rattle for the baby to the calico for the dress, canned fruits, etc. and last, but not least, medicines most needed by the dwellers whose neighbors are often miles away. The road man is shrewd and knows a good thing when he sees it and how to profit by it. Mr. J G Lincoln is a road man and he writes under date of Feb. 16, '96, "I had the good fortune to come into possession of a package of your Catarrh Balm, and although I have been troubled with catarrh for several years I can say that it cured me. I think it is the greatest catarrh medicine out. I am a road man. Since using your medicine I have told several people where I travel and these would buy it if I had it. At what price can you sell it to me in quantity—my Sunday point is Paris, Texas for the next two Sundays." Pretzinger's Catarrh Balm is endorsed by all who give it trial and its worth is becoming known far and wide. Sample sent for 2 cent stamp, or a full sized package for 50 cents by Pretzinger Bros., Chemists Dayton, Ohio.

His Right Side Paralyzed.

We are extremely sorry to announce that John Fellenbaum who sustained a paralytic stroke early Sunday morning is some worse to-day than he was yesterday. His entire right side is now paralyzed and it is doubtful whether he will ever be able to work again. This is indeed a sad affliction as Mr. Fellenbaum was a large able bodied man who has worked hard all his life. For many years he has been in the employ of Jenkins & Lingle, Machinists and Founders, and was pronounced one of the finest and best skilled mechanics in the country. He has long rendered faithful service to his employers and his position in the blacksmithing department will be hard to fill. Mr. Fellenbaum recently secured a patent on a pinch-bar, for moving cars which, it is thought, will prove of considerable value to him. The afflicted man certainly has the heart-felt sympathy of the community in this his time of trouble.

License Courts Results.

In the license court which has been in session this week the same number of licenses were granted as were held last year. Only one new license was granted and that was to J. A. Gramley at Rebersburg. An application from Snow Shoe which was advertised was not carried out.

In granting the licenses Judge Love ordered the attorneys to instruct their client-applicants to enforce the closing hour of 10 o'clock in the evening. It is the same rule that has been in force for years. The court made reference to instances where the Supreme Court held that where the courts make this request and it is violated, it is just cause for revoking the license.

On Sunday he was bothered with cramp and suffered considerable pain. It was reported that he had sustained a paralytic stroke but upon investigation this was found to be untrue.

—"I contracted a severe cold from wet and exposure. Bronchitis followed. Doctors failed to relieve me. Several of the members of my family had died of consumption, and I thought I was doomed. Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup brought instant relief and perfect cure." M. Unger, Union Corner, Northumberland Co., Pa.
